

IDS Promotes Mark Mackey to CEO

SALT LAKE CITY, February 11, 2015 — Mark Mackey has been promoted to CEO of mortgage document preparation vendor International Document Services Inc. (IDS).

Mackey previously served as the company's executive vice president. He began his career with the company as a member of the sales team in 1999. He is the first CEO in the company's history.

Prior to Mackey's promotion, Curt Doman, president of IDS, was the highest-ranking executive in the company.

In a release, Doman says he has no plans to leave the company, which he also owns, and that the promotion was simply a reflection of the role Mackey was already serving within IDS.

"[Mackey] was already filling the CEO role without the title, and he has been doing a great job running the company day-to-day. I'm just finally making it official," Doman says. "People who are familiar with IDS know [he] has been running the company in this capacity, so we don't anticipate anything will change for our customers with the promotion."

"IDS is a growing company in a contracting industry, and I see my role as ensuring that our growth continues regardless of market conditions," Mackey adds. "IDS is prepared for [the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's new integrated disclosure rules] and other changes coming to the industry and that will give us great added value for our customers. I'm excited about what we've done and where we're going."
